Hotel Nia Opens in Silicon Valley

With the debut of Hotel Nia, members of Silicon Valley's tech elite have a new place to network. The 250-room property in Menlo Park offers over 20,000 square feet of light-filled meeting space. Many of these areas, as well as many of the guest rooms, feature floor-to-ceiling windows overlooking San Francisco Bay. Execs can work out at the 2,000-square-foot fitness center then caffeinate with Verve coffee. Bay Area residents looking for a staycation can take advantage of the hotel's pool, fire pit, lawn games, and California-Mediterranean restaurant, Porta Blue. Rooms from $400; hotelnia.com (<https://www.hotelnia.com/>).
